Management Recruiters of the Sandias is the premier provider of staffing solutions for our client companies and candidates. We are known in our industry specialties as the company to go to for their most critical staffing needs.

We pride ourselves in customer satisfaction. We are recognized as a world-class company and have a training program that is recognized worldwide within MRI. Together as a team we strive to obtain common values and goals to create a sense of well-being and enjoyment of life's experiences. We have a heart within our own staff that supports each other in personal and professional issues, celebrates each other's successes, strengthens each other in tough times, and gives everyone a role in moving our company forward.

We embrace new employees with a mentorship program. We maintain a fun, positive work environment that exceeds our clients expectations as well as our own. People are beating down the door to work here in our family-friendly, high-integrity environment that has "out-of-hand" rewards and incentive programs.

We continue to be the most innovative company of our kind. We are a team that is committed to Albuquerque. We take on service projects as a group to help the less fortunate or share our knowledge with those who can benefit from anything we can share.
